

$25,000 IN STOLEN U.S. BONDS RETURNED

Part of $27,500 Theft Charged to Ex-Deputy Kelly Received by Hitchcock.

ACCUSED OUT ON BAIL

Letter Accompanying Securities Is Signed 'Conscience'—$2,500 Still Missing.

Twenty-five thousand dollars' worth of United States certificates of indebtedness, major part of the Government securities which mysteriously vanished July 15, 1919, from the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue for the Third District, the theft of which has been formally charged by Federal officers to Frederick P. Kelly, former deputy in the office, were returned yesterday to the Government. The lot was received by the Government officials in almost as mysterious a manner as it disappeared more than two years ago.

The stolen bonds were received by United States Commissioner Samuel M. Hitchcock in a large manila envelope at the Federal Building. The letter was by special delivery from the Post Office and bore a post mark of late Friday night.

Accompanying the Government certificates was a note, poorly written, and containing several misspelled words, signed "Conscience." It was as follows: "You are accusing an innocent man. I placed them in an old leather case. He made me late every morning and I am sorry I made so much trouble."

After opening the letter Commissioner Hitchcock summoned Peter A. Rubano, Federal agent who arrested Kelly and who swore out the complaint charging him with the robbery, and Robert A. Peattie, Assistant United States Attorney. They identified the bonds as those stolen from the Collector's office. They were one $10,000 note, one for $5,000 and ten for $1,000 each.

Mr. Peattie declared he could place no interpretation on the crude communication, but said he said Kelly was responsible for the mailing of the envelope. He explained that Kelly, who has been in the Tomb since his arrest, secured his freedom on bail last Thursday. The bonds were placed in the mail the following day. Rubano said also he believed Kelly was responsible for the return of the securities.

Kelly was arrested on the night of August 24 last in the company of Mrs. Elizabeth Van Nordstrand of 661 West 159th street, who conducted his boarding house. At the time of arrest he was attempting to cash two of the $10,000 bonds stolen from the Collector's office at the exchange office of Ignatz Engle, 44 West 125th street. He had previously cashed a $500 note, the Federal officers learned. The entire amount of the stolen securities is $27,500. Mrs. Van Nordstrand was charged in a Federal complaint with having received part of the stolen lot.

Mardi Gras, Beauty Contest and Other Festivities.

The first anniversary of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Week, which was inaugurated last year, is to be held from Saturday, September 24, to the following Saturday, October 1. It was announced yesterday by E. H. Koch, chairman of the executive committee. The festivities will open with a dinner at the Claremont Casino Friday evening, September 23, to which Gov. Miller has been invited.

There will be a baby parade September 28, with a reviewing stand in Mount Morris Park. Mrs. Owen Kildare will be chairman of the committee awarding the prizes. A Mardi Gras parade will be held the following night. One of the chief events is to be a beauty contest, open to young women residents of Harlem, The Bronx, Yorkville and Washington Heights. The first award will be an order for $200 worth of merchandise at any 125th street store. There will be a second award of $100 and three others of $50 each, all in merchandise.

A gold medal is offered for the best essay by a public school pupil on the past, present and future of 125th street. Other events will include a road race and concerts at a band stand outside the Hotel Theresa, each night. Prizes are to be offered for the best window and outside display. This street will be festooned with electric lights from curb to curb and from river to river. More than $100,000 worth of business is transacted each year by 125th street merchants.

BANKER HELD IN $10,000 BAIL

United States Commissioner Samuel M. Hitchcock held Frank McDowell, former president of the National Bank of Graham, Texas, in $10,000 bail, yesterday, for a hearing on September 13 on the charge of being a fugitive from justice.

McDowell was arrested Friday night by Federal officers, it being alleged that on April 1 last he received funds and securities aggregating $35,406.78. A warrant for his arrest was issued June 10, when information reached Federal authorities that McDowell was in this city.

PESKY YOUTH PROVIDES TRYING DAY FOR POLICE

Fells One, Causes Automobile Smash and Knocks Another to Street After Chase in Bloomfield, Then Escapes Fine by Having Friends Pay It.

Joseph Geller of Nassau street, Orange, paid $15 yesterday for an hour's escapade with the police of Bloomfield, N. J.

He was said to have caused injury to one by joggling the arm of the ambulance driver who was taking him to a hospital and causing the ambulance to ram another car.

On being captured, Joe fainted in pain, and refused to move. Clancy called assistance and four men carried the youth to the street, and put him in the ambulance.

Joe complied, and Patrolman Clancy felt badly, nose down. The policeman, getting up, decided he had played long enough with Joe. Drawing his revolver he let a bullet go over the youth's head. That checked his speed, and another shot also over his head, checked him.

In spite of Joe's sudden recovery from his injuries received at the chicken coop, Clancy shifted Joe for the hospital. On the way, Patrolman Foster, acting as extra guard, was thrown out. At the hospital Joe was pronounced thoroughly sound, and a quicker return trip was made.

Sergeant Hanson imposed the fine and gave Joe a severe lecture, but Joe's friends paid for him. Clancy was all worn out, and Foster sore, but Joe was as popular among the youth of Bloomfield as a movie hero.

POLICE FIELD DAY WILL SMASH RECORDS

100,000 Will Be There, Second Deputy Predicts.

The Second Deputy Police Commissioner yesterday made the amazing prediction that "a record breaking crowd would attend the police field day at Gravesend next Saturday." Inasmuch as this is the first time a police commissioner has dared take such chances, he asks that the newspapers publish his words. Furthermore, he insists that this year's carnival will be the greatest, the biggest, the largest and the most attractive in the history of such affairs.

That he has no respect for precedent is shown in the Commissioner's insistence that "everything is in readiness," and that the Police Department has prepared to take care of a crowd of 100,000 with no inconvenience to the crowd.

The work of firebugs is suspected in a blaze which did $25,000 damage to an apartment house under construction at 2398 Creston avenue, The Bronx, and threatened several adjoining buildings, also partly finished. The fire began with an explosion, witnesses told Assistant Fire Chief Joseph Martin, and so far as known there were no inflammable or explosive materials in the building. A mysterious blaze was discovered about a month ago at 2609 Creston avenue. The apartment house was to have been ready for occupancy October 1, and many of the apartments were already leased, it was said. Because of the danger to adjoining property from flying sparks three alarms were sent in. All workmen had gone from the building before the fire started.

Frederick De Luca suffered a fractured skull in leaping from a third floor window. He was taken to the hospital, where he overheard physicians say that both his parents were dead. The young man leaped from it and dashed into the street. He appeared at the fire soon afterward and again disappeared. It was thought he had run back into the burning building, but he was found some time later and was taken back to the hospital.

Firemen of Hook and Ladder Company No. 14, under Lieut. Fred Lehman, rescued the four members of the Catalano family alive, but they died while being attended by physicians in the street. The firemen ascended the extension ladder to the third floor, where, balancing in the window, Lieut. Lehman saw Catalano lying on the floor. His men found the three others huddled in a corner trying to hide from the flames.

CIGARETTE BLAMED FOR 6 FIRE DEATHS

No Evidence of Incendiary Found at First Avenue House Blaze.

4 IN SINGLY FAMILY LOST

Husband and Wife Succumb, Latter in Hospital—Son Dying From Burns.

A cigarette thrown in the hallway is believed to have caused a blaze in which six persons lost their lives early yesterday morning in the house at 2407 First avenue. Detective William Begley of the East 128th street station and Deputy Fire Chief Lawlor came to this conclusion after an investigation. Nothing was found to substantiate a suspicion that the fire was incendiary.

Four of the victims were members of one family. They were Vincent Catalano, 45; his wife, Augusta, 46; his son, Ralph, 16, and daughter, Assunta, 8. Bernard de Luca, 67, and his wife, Anne, were the other victims. Mrs. de Luca dying at Harlem Hospital last night. Their son Frederick is at the same hospital and his recovery is doubtful.
